

ADVENUS

WEBINAR, MAY 26th, 12:00 noon CEST (GMT+2)

Free On-line Training Resources adapted for Adult Refugees: An introduction for educators

The ADVENUS project aims to improve and extend the offer of high quality, culturally sensitive open access e-learning resources to adult refugees between the ages of 18-40 years and their trainers and teachers in EU countries. Based on interviews and trials with refugees and their teachers in four European countries, the Advenus project has adapted five online courses for refugees, where the overall objective is to strengthen employability and inclusion in their new host countries. The webinar will focus on how you as an educator can make use of these free resources, and also share challenges and experiences.

The webinar is offered by the Advenus project

Early intervention is required whereby refugees need to build the basic skills that enable them to function in the host society. In this project the e-learning resources are trialed and validated so that they are inter-culturally sensitive to the needs of different refugee groups and to cultures of the countries in which they find themselves.

With this unique approach, the project ADVENUS contribute to the existing course market with innovative course content and practice. Adult refugees and their trainers and teachers need access to open on-line training resources to improve achievement in high-level basic and transversal competences in a lifelong learning perspective. The project promotes the Erasmus+ objective of equity and inclusion by addressing cultural differences faced by refugee adult learners.

Webinar Programme

Facilitated by Professor Roger Slee and the Advenus Partners

Part I

Welcome by facilitators – live in Webinar

- Goal of the webinar
- Goal of the Advenus project
- Who are the facilitators

Part II

Introduction - educational challenges for refugees by professor Roger Slee and professor Stephen Dobson

Sharing experiences (1):

What is culturally responsive pedagogy?
By Uporto University

Sharing experiences (2):

Procedures and tools for observing refugees' course interactions by LUMSA University

Part III

Presentation of the Advenus courses

- How to write a CV
- Using the Internet to find a job and to learn
- Dealing with money – Private economy
- Saving the world from my neighbourhood (reduce, reuse and recycle)
- Let's eat! (Food consciousness)

Part IV

Discussion and feedback

Webinar details When: May 26th, 12.00 noon CEST (GMT+2)

Where: Online - wherever you like!

Connection details: connect.uninett.no/advenus

Note: Please install Adobe Connect Add-in before the Webinar (link to instructions)

Registration for the webinar: Email to linda.tangen.bjorge@inn.no

Duration: Approximately one hour

Price: Free

To obtain a recording of the Webinar please visit advenus.net after the webinar

More information about the project: advenus.net/about

Contact: advenus.net/contact-us

Inland Norway University

Contact: Linda Tangen Bjørge
linda.tangen.bjorge@inn.no

Università di Roma LUMSA

Contact: Valeria Damiani
valeria.damiani@uniroma3.it

Universidade do Porto

Contact: Ana Luísa Costa
analuisacosta@fpce.up.pt

CDI, Macedonia

Contact: Sreten Koceski
skoceski@gmail.com